Fraxion Stereotactic Frame

The Fraxion Stereotactic Frame is for target localization in stereotactic radiation therapy and radiosurgery. The purpose of the stereotactic frame is to impose fiducials on images of the patient acquired during CT scanning. The fiducials are used for determining target coordinates and for slice alignment by treatment planning software. The frame includes also the necessary marking sheets (Set of 5).