

Article No : P10102-119

BodyFIX Diaphragm Control

Respiration-induced motion of tumors (such as liver and lung tumors) is still a clinical challenge in modern radiotherapy. Larger margins are required to account for respiratory motion and consequently a larger volume of healthy tissue is irradiated. To increase the accuracy and efficiency for these kinds of treatments, BodyFIX Diaphragm Control has been developed to specifically minimize diaphragm movements.